For Immediate Release – 26 July 2010

Green up your home with the HIA BuildGreen Expo

Renovating and building sustainably are vital ways you can make a real contribution to the environment and save your money. The fourth annual HIA BuildGreen Expo returns to the Melbourne Exhibition Centre from Thursday 19 to Sunday 22 August 2010.

The Show provides visitors with endless green benefits that include lower energy and water bills, a warmer house in winter, a cooler house in summer, increased resource efficiency, a healthier home, and less waste going to landfill. The key message being - if you're building, renovating or undertaking any home improvement projects, then 'Think Green'.

The HIA BuildGreen Expo will help visitors achieve these important goals - it showcases the latest products, advice and solutions to convert your existing home or build a new "green" home.

Expo Highlights:

See 1000's Of Sustainable Products For Your Home. Don't miss your one stop green shop. Solar power, solar hot water, insulation, water tanks, grey water systems, water savers, green building products and more.

Free seminars run daily at the show on the most popular green trends. From the Sustainable Living Stage, visitors can seek out information on rain gardens, sustainable landscaping, selecting the best grey water system or water tank, 5 star energy rating your home, solar power and more.

Learn how to make your own Raingarden with Melbourne Water.

All HIA BuildGreen Expo visitors also gain FREE entry to the adjoining Herald Sun Home Show & Garden Expo - Melbourne's No 1 home show for home improvements, new home building and renovations. The event co-locates with the HIA BuildGreen Expo in 2010 providing double the value for visitors.
